Additional Solicitor General SV Raju also said there was a direct money trail of proceeds of crime being transferred from the South Group, of which BRS leader K Kavitha was a part, to the AAP.

JUDGEMENT

Additional Solicitor General SV Raju also said there was a direct money trail of proceeds of crime being transferred from the South Group, of which BRS leader K Kavitha was a part, to the AAP.

ASG Raju also claimed that Kejriwal refused to give the password of his phone during the investigation.

"Kejriwal says my phone is sacrosanct. Mai password nahi dunga. (I will not give my password). We had to resort to the phone of Vinod Chauhan (accused in the case). He is sitting quiet. An adverse inference has to be drawn from the fact that Kejriwal has refused to give his password. This is a ground for refusing bail under ordinary bail law, forget section 45 PMLA for the time being," ASG Raju said.
